

Mary Reynolds is the Executive Director of Innovation & Secondary Transformation for the Illinois State Board of Education. In this role, she serves to help cultivate innovative programs and generate strategies that improve outcomes for students in Illinois. For 35 years, Mary has served in a variety of policy development roles in and around state government focused on issues related to youth, education, juvenile justice, and technology.